

A gentle landing place where love-light, curiosity and awareness blend to inspire spiritual growth.

To be yourself in a world that is constantly trying to make you something else is the greatest accomplishment.

-Ralph Waldo Emerson

Reflection Questions

How often do you find yourself acting like a chameleon, trying to blend in?

What keeps you from being who you are in those moments?

How can you use that information to shift the 'chameleon' behavior pattern?
